

REJANE, FRENCH ACTRESS, DEAD

Paris, France, June 15.—Madame Rejane, famous French actress, is dead. Her performance in "Madame Sans Gêne" in 1912 made her as well known in England and the United States as she was in Paris, and in later years she appeared in characteristic parts in both countries, being particularly successful in "Zaza" and "La Faussette".

In February, this year, Madame Rejane was awarded the red ribbon of the Legion of Honor. Presentation was made at a luncheon given in her honor in the city hall of the theater Rejane, once owned by the actress. The gathering was attended by president Doumergue and many persons prominent in French political and social life.

Madame Rejane was born in Paris in 1852, and made her debut in 1875.

Many women in Mansfield, Ohio, have formed the "Perrine Club" and have pledged themselves to wear white aprons in the hope of cutting the cost of dressing.

Royalty Rides In Semi-State To Ascot Races

Ascot Heath, Eng., June 15.—The royal procession in semi-state was received today at the second Ascot, since the end of the war, which were attended by a notable gathering of society people. The display of fashionable gowns was unusually brilliant.

King George and queen Mary, who are entertaining a large party at Windsor castle during the week. Drives on the grounds in an open landau drawn by four horses, with postillions and outriders. They were attended by other members of the royal family and the royal household, who followed in seven carriages.

The Ascot stake race was won by Fred Hart's Happy Man, second, J. Whalen's, Front Line, second, and J. Singer's Chaffin third. A sensational feature was the fact that the ownership of Happy Man had been involved in a fatal dispute and settled in court today just in time to permit the horse to run.

Black, 148 Brown, and Kenneth DeShazo, 1059 Olive.

Others May Go Later.

A large number of boys who started the work too late to finish will go to the next camp, June 20 to July 15, as The Herald has made arrangements with the "Y" so that all boys who complete their lists before June 15, will attend the second camp for two whole weeks entirely at The Herald's expense. Boys who have started the work but who have not finished, should call to see H. B. Price, circulation manager, El Paso Herald.

SHUT OFF STILL IN NEW MEXICO

Sources from which Roswell, N. M., receives its supply of bootleg whisky have been discovered and shut off by agents Beckett and Gregg of the El Paso prohibition forces, who have just returned from a hunt for illicit whisky stills in New Mexico.

On a ranch in the Roswell section the prohibition agents found what had every indication of being an illicit still. However, the "still" lacked a worm for the distillation of spirits. Because evidence against the ranch owner was incomplete, he was not arrested, although a trough of corn was found in process of fermentation and other appliances for the making of moonshine whisky were said to have been discovered by the officers.

Under the floor of a pool hall in Roswell, Beckett and Gregg discovered several jugs of whisky which Cruz Lazan, one of the proprietors of the pool hall, admitted he had made from alcohol, water and brown sugar. In a yard in the rear of the establishment, several additional jugs of the liquid were found. Lazan and Dan Ayala, his partner, are in jail at Roswell.

Following the discovery of a small plant for home brewing of beer on his premises, George P. Blafnek, an ice manufacturer of Roswell, was placed under arrest. The "brewery," which is of eight gallon capacity, was found at the ice plant of Blafnek, a mile from town. The plant was found to be connected with a large quantity of moonshine whisky and several gallons of the brew, which Blafnek admitted he had made by him, according to the federal men.
